PHILADELPHIA, MAY 19.

Extract of a letter from Cape Francois, dated 29th April, to a gentleman in this city.

The brig James Stuart has arrived here in 12 days from your port, and is just joined the convoy for Port Republican.—Tranquility is at an end here. Ten Thousand Negroes have in a state of revolt for these three weeks past, back of this place, and the consequences are much dreaded, and as for the Bite, there is no passing without convoy.

Extract of a letter from Cape Francois, dated 22d April.

"I wrote you on the 31 inst. by the brig Ann, informing you that I intended to sail in a few days for America—Since that an embargo has taken place here on all American vessels, in consequence of a rebellion having again broke out among the Negroes. The times are really very serious, and American property thought very unsafe. The markets are most shocking, nothing will sell at present, notwithstanding all this, American vessels are flocking in here daily.

"The embargo was yesterday taken off; but the rioters are not yet quelled. It is expected, that every thing will again be tranquil on the arrival here of the commander in chief, who is expected tomorrow.

COWARDLY BARBARITY!!

In the beginning of last week, it was rumored, that a lady had been stabbed on the Saturday evening preceding, by a person unknown; but, as no name was mentioned, it was conceived to be a false report, and did not receive the attention it merited. During the whole of the week, tales of females being stabbed or abused after dark, were flying about, but still were unheeded. Yesterday, however, conceiving it our duty to ascertain the truth or falsity of these reports, we endeavored to investigate the matter. The result of this investigation, enables us to state, that some unknown villain, has, for ten days past, carried on a most barbarous and systematical plan of torturing defenceless women.

Within this time, not less than a dozen have been stabbed by him, one of whom is not likely to recover. Four of them we have seen and conversed with. One of these, a married lady, states, that on passing Elbow lane in Third-street, in the dusk of the evening, with a child in her arms, a man rushed upon her from the ally, gave her a violent blow on the back with some sharp instrument and ran off. Another of them was wounded in the same way, at the same place a few evenings after The third was walking in Arch street, near the Friends' buriel ground, when a man seized and attempted to stab her, but the instrument only pierced her clothes. The fourth was walking alone in Third-street, near the sign of the plough, about nine o'clock at night, when a man came behind her and stabbed her four times in the back. She called for assistance, but the villain fled into Church alley, and escaped. She was immediately conveyed to a neighbouring house, where a shoemaker's awl, which he had left in her back, was extracted. This the lady has now in her possession. It appears to us, from comparing the different accounts, that this diabolical business is carried on by one person only, as all four ladies nearly agree in the description of his person and cloathing, and their wounds are supposed to have been made by the same kind of instrument. In some instances he has beten females in the most cruel manner. Attempts have been made to discover him, but they have hitherto proved fruitless. We have not heard of his attacking any female unless unprotected.

NEW-YORK, MAY 17.

The Spaniard who was reported to have been murdered in a quarrel at a house in Oliver street, is in the Hospital, and likely to recover.

From Jamaica papers to the 19th instant, received yesterday.

The American sch'r Fame, of Charleston, with wine and provisions, was picked up off Port Morant without any person on board, by his majesty's ship Bonnetta, arrived the same day.

Tuesday his Majesty's ship Hind, capt. Larcom, arrived in 19 days from New-York, having under convoy the ships Exchange and Anne, with block houses for the service of government.

The American schooner Favorite, from Gonaives bound to Philadelphia, with cotton detained by his majesty's ship Rattler arrived on Thursday.

On the 9th inst. the body of a female was picked up in the harbour of Newport, tied up in a bag. We never heard of a murder which discovered such barbarity in the murderer as in this instance; the legs and arms of the female were cut off, her body ripped open, and these limbs deposited therein. Her head was cut in a shocking manner, her face being entirely destroyed, &c. We hope that the perpetrator of this horrid act may soon be brought to justice.

NASSAU, (N. P.) APRIL 15

Yesterday arrived here the brig Margaret, captain Ross, from Mobile, by which we learn, that an expedition was fitted out from New Orleans against General Bowles, (the Indian Chief) consisting of three gallies—They sailed up the River Apalachicola, and suprised the Indians. Gen. Bowles, however, made his escape into the woods; a French gentleman his Aid-de Camp, was taken prisoner.—The General's trunk, with a quantity of stores, and ammunition were captured.

APRIL 18.

We are sorry to announce the loss of the brig Dowdeswell, captain M'Laine, bound from London to this port. On Wednesday morning last she made Abaco, but the wind blowing fresh, they at night unfortunately struck on Sandy Key.—The vessel and cargo are totally lost, but we are happy to learn, that the passengers, thirteen in number, and crew are safely arrived in town. The bag of letters had not arrived at the post office when the paper was put to press.

PARIS, FEBRUARY 15.

We learn by letters from Bordeaux, that twenty seven American ships have arrived at Passage, a small port of Spain, on the frontiers of France, from the United States richly laden with sugar, coffee, cotton, indigo, rice, tobacco, oil and other produce of the West Indies and America. Twelve others are expected. It is probable that these cargoes would have been sent to France, if the differences which exist between the government of the United States and the French Republic had been settled. The Americans would have got much better profit, and these arrivals would have been highly advantageous to our manufactures and to our commerce. The revenue would also have been greatly benefitted, inasmuch, as it would have received the duties on imported goods to the value of four or five millions. Another consideration, not less important, is, that nothing can be more injurious to our commerce than the accumulation of a great quantity of goods on our frontiers.—Smuggling is there so easy and so common, that the greatest part of these goods enter France without paying the duties, and thus deprive the government of a part of its resources.

TO BE RENTED,

THAT large and commodious HOUSE on Fairfax Street, at present in the possession of Mr. Archibald M'Call. This house is well calculated for the accommodation of a large family, having four good rooms and a garret, together with a good cellar. Adjoining the main building is a large Brick Kitchen, with two well-finished rooms over it. There are also a smoak-house, stable and carriage-house on the lot, and a pump of good water.—It has the advantage of some vacant ground, which may be converted into a garden. Possession will be given the 15th day of July next. For terms apply to William Herbert, in the Town of Alexandria, or to the Subscriber, at Chestnut Hill.

CATHARINE BROWN.

April 19.

Alexandria, May 24.

Andrew Ellicot, Esq. Commissioner on the part of the United States, for adjusting the line between the United States and the Spanish territory, arrived in Philadelphia on Saturday the 17th inst. in the schr. Genet, from Savannah.

We have the pleasure to inform the public, that the boundaries between the United States and Spain, have been run according to the second Article of the Treaty, and that Andrew Ellicott, commissioner on the part of the United States, has this day depolited in the office of State, the original Plat and Journal of the proceedings, signed and ratified by the commissioners of the two parties.

(Phila. pap.)

It is reported (says a London paper of March 10.) that the court of Spain has applied to the British government, for permission to bring from South America twenty-five millions sterling and proposed to give twenty five per cent. for a safe conduct, which would amount to 6,250,000l.

Some time since the king of Prussia appointed a commission to attempt the making of sugar from turnips. In their report on the subject, they state that the result of their experiments has been highly satisfactory. They prove that the excellent white and brown Sugar can be made from turnips, the white at 2s. per pound, and the brown at 6d. The sugar is equal in quality to that of the West Indies. After the extraction of the sugar, a liquor equal to Brandy can be extracted from the turnips. The commission further say that a mile and a half square of ground will furnish enough sugar for all the Prussian states, besides twenty millions five hundred thousand quarts of Brandy, made from the turnips after the extraction of the Sugar.

(Phil. Paper.)

EXTRACTS

From a letter written by ROBERT G. HARPER, to his constituents.

"As to our internal concerns, the most important of them, and the only one that seems likely to agitate the public mind, is the approaching election of President. Mr. Jefferson is again brought forward in opposition to Mr. Adams, and the utmost exertions are made to insure his success. Those who have been in the constant habit of opposing the present system of administration, from the moment when it was first adopted by General Washington, its real author, to the present time, will no doubt promise a great many good things to the nation, if they can at length obtain the management of its affairs. It will however be remembered by men of sense and reflection, that they have been employed for ten years, in finding fault with and opposing every measure of the federal government; that many of those measures which they clamoured most against, have been approved by experience, the only unerring judge in matters of this kind."

"We know the present administration by the success of their actions. Those who are so anxious to succeed them, we know only by the fairness of their promises, their perseverance in fault-finding, and the failure of all their former predictions. It is, therefore, in my judgment, solid wisdom to adhere to the former, and leave the latter where they are.

In order to effect this purpose, it is necessary to fix on two men, in both of whom those who are satisfied with the system of administration adopted by Washington, and pursued by his successor, can confide; and to support them both as President. This necessity is imposed on us by the constitution; which directs that every elector shall vote for two persons, and that he who obtains the highest number of votes, shall be President, and the next to him Vice-President. Mr. Adams and General Pinckney have been proposed as candidates, to be voted for together; with the hope and wish that Mr. Adams may be President, on account of his long services, his well tried virtue, the fidelity wherewith he has discharged the duties of his office, and the success which has attended the leading measures of his administration.

"Both however ought to be supported because the principle ought to be preferred to the man; and because if both are supported together, there will be more probability of securing one of them, than if either should run singly.—Should General Pinckney obtain the highest vote, there can be no doubt that the public affairs will be safe in his hands. We know his talents, his industry, his knowledge of business, his integrity, his attachment to Republicanism, and his ardent love of his country. We know also that he is a firm friend and supporter of Washington's system of administration, whereby this country has been maintained in prosperity and honour, and which it is the object of Mr. Adams's opponents to subvert. By supporting these two gentlemen, with all our might, we give ourselves the best possible chance of maintaining the present order of things; of giving stability and permanency to our government, which must be deeply shaken by frequent and violent changes of administration; and of encouraging public servants to do well, by retaining in the confidence of the nation, those who have conducted its affairs with fidelity and success.

BOSTON, MAY 14.

"Mr. COOPER has not succeeded in opening a commercial intercourse between the United States and the Isle of France and Bourbon." We pledge ourselves for the accuracy of this information.

Mr. Strong's majority is between one and two hundred.—But he has nearly three thousand more votes than the candidate who received ALL the suffrages of the Jacobinic democrats, all the half-covenant folks, and some federalists who esteemed him for his personal attachment to the President of the United States.

NEW YORK, MAY 17.

In the gale of wind at Cadiz on the 12th of March, a French privateer sunk at her anchors in that harbour.

Another French privateer of 8 guns and 100 men, we are also informed, are overset and sunk in the Gut of Gibraltar, by a sudden gust of wind.

PHILADELPHIA, MAY 19.

Ship Maria, Thompson, on her outward bound passage from hence to Leghorn, on the 14th March was engaged by four French privateers, which fortunately, by the intrepidity of the captain and crew, as well as the extreme fast sailing of the vessel, the Maria was enabled to escape from them, without the loss of a man, and nothing materially injured, except the sails and rigging.

Extract of a letter from a respectible mercantile house in London, to their friend here.

"We are sorry to have so confirm the disagreeable accounts we gave you in our last, and to add, that so far from mending, our prospects are daily getting more gloomy. The distresses of the times have now reached Copenhagen and Amsterdam; at the former place sixty one bankruptcies have already happened, and many more are inevitable. M. Clais Grill, Swedish consul here, having failed for 400,000l. that must have a serious effect on the north of Europe. Our distresses in this kingdom and Ireland, are generally increased by the very bad harvest we have had this season; vast quantities of corn being spoiled by the wet, which has raised that necessary of life to a most alarming price, but we fear it must still rise."

ANECDOTES.

Swift was a good writer, but had a bad heart. Even to the last he was devoured by ambition, which he pretended to despise. Would you believe that, after finding his opposition to the ministry fruitless, and, what galled him more, contemned, he summoned up resolution to wait on Sir Robert Walpole. Sir Robert seeing Swift look pale and ill, enquired the state of his health, with his usual old English good humor and urbanity. They were standing by a window that looked into the court yard, where was an ancient ivy dropping towards the ground. "Sir, said Swift, with an emphatic look, I am like that ivy—I want support." Sir Robert answered, "why then, doctor, did you attach yourself to a falling wall?" Swift took the hint, made his bow, and retired.

William Duke of Cumberland gave promises of talents that were never accomplished. One day he had given some offence to his royal mother, and was remanded to the confinement of his chamber. After what the queen thought a sufficient duration of his punishment, she sent for him. He returned in a very sullen humour. "What have you been doing?" said the queen.—"Reading."—"What book?"—The New Testament."—"Very well. What part?"—"where it is said, Woman, why troublest thou me?"

Mr. Pennant is a most ingenious and pleasing writer. His Tours display a great variety of knowledge, expressed in an engaging way. In private life I am told he has some peculiarities, and even excentricities. Among the latter may be classed his singular antipathy to a wig—which however he can suppress, till reason yield a little to wine. But when this is the case, off goes the wig next to him, and into the fire!

Dining once at Chester with an officer who wore a wig, Mr. Penant became half seas over; and another friend that was in company, carefully placed himself between Pennant and wig, to prevent mischief. After much patience, and many a wistful look, Pennant started up, seized the wig, and threw it into the fire. It was in flames in a moment, and so was the officer, who ran to his sword. Down stairs runs Pennant, and the officer after him, through all the streets of Chester. But Pennant escaped, from superior local knowledge. A wag called this "Pennant's Tour in Chester."

Bishop Burnet's absence of mind is well known. Dining with the Dutchess of Marlborough, after her husband's disgrace, he compared this great general to Belisarius. "But, said the Dutchess, eagerly, how came it that such a man was so miserable and universally deposed?" Oh madam, (exclaimed the distrait prelate) he had such a brimstone of a wife!"

Valuable Property
FOR SALE.

THE SUBSCRIBER OFFERS FOR SALE,
That valuable Property known by the name of

Clifton Paper-Mill,

With all the improvements, and 50 acres of Land; most of which is in wood. The mill is an over-shot, with a wheel of 20 feet 9 inches, on as constant a stream as any in this part of the country. She is a two vat mill, and every way calculated for that purpose, with two iron presses of the best construction, made by Reynolds and Sharpless, Brandywine Mills, a settling pond of fine water at the mill door, with an excellent pump for conveying the water to the engines, a size kettle, moulds, felts and every other apparatus for carrying on the Paper-Making business.

The mill house is 50 by 28 feet, two stories high, with a loft—There are also two vat houses, a drying house, and rag house, convenient to the mill, with a barn shedded on each side, sufficient to hold ten horses; a convenient dwelling house (not quite finished) with a kitchen, meat-house, and corn house; the whole of which has been built within these 4 years past. There is a thriving young orchard of peach and other fruit trees, just beginning to bear.

This property lies within 2½ miles of Dumfries, on tide-water, and within about 34 miles of Alexandria, City of Washington, and Georgetown, at which places the manufacturer finds a ready market, and where a large proportion of materials are collected. A water conveyance offers almost at any time, there being several craft which constantly trade to and from the above places. Falmouth and Fredericksburg are within 25 miles; these, with the places above, are sufficient to vend all the manufacture that can be made. The situation of this property must render it a desirable acquisition to any person inclined to engage in this line of business; and particularly so, as the Federal Government is just upon removing to the City of Washington, which must, of course, make the demand still greater. It is deemed unnecessary to say any thing more respecting the premises, as it is presumed any person inclined to purchase would wish to see them. Nothing would induce me to part with this valuable property, but for the pressing demands against those concerned, who are anxious to discharge them; therefore a great bargain may be expected. Any further information required may be known on application to acres of Land adjoining, situated on Broad Run, in Prince William County, below Buckland. The mill-house is two stories high, and has two pair of stones in it. It is said to be situated upon the best stream in that country, and the seat as well calculated for a mill as any upon that stream. The mill has been rented for several years, but having been conveyed to a gentleman in Philadelphia, has not been attended to; consequently it is probable that it is not in the best order. It rented, however, for the last two years, with some of the land, at about 80l. per year. The land will be sold with the mill. One third of the purchase-money will be required in hand, and the other two thirds in annual enstallments. The purchaser shall receive his deed upon the first payment, but a mortgage will be required upon the premises to secure the residue.
JOHN SOWDEN.

FOR SALE,

A MILL, with about 500
